

JEWISH REVIEW

Published by the Jewish Federation of Greater Portland, Oregon, USA

September 15, 2005: Local News

Youth foundation disperses funds, seeks high schoolers for new board

Jewish Review

Fifteen students from the Oregon Jewish Community Youth Foundation allocated $5,000 to 16 local Jewish and secular non-profit organizations last year.

Under the guidance of the Oregon Jewish Community Foundation, the OJCYF offers Jewish high school students the opportunity to get an insider's view on how non-profits operate.

High school students interested in serving on this year's youth foundation board are invited to a meet-and-greet on Sept. 25 at 4:30 to 6 p.m. at Cedar Sinai Park's Rose Schnitzer Manor.

Applications are available on the OJCF Web site at www.ojcf.org. The application deadline is Sept. 18. For more information, call the OJCF office at 503-248-3928.

ABOVE, Morriah Kaplan presents a check from the Oregon Jewish Community Youth Foundation to Charlie Schiffman, executive vice president of the Jewish Federation of Portland. BELOW, OJCYF board member Katie Dobscha hands a check from the OJCYF to Marv Kuperstein, executive director of Jewish Family and Child Service.